Will French Polynesia play a key role in France's Indo-Pacific Policy?

French Polynesia, with its strategic location and massive EEZ, will play a key role in France's Indo-Pacific policy. French President Emmanuel Macron is greeted on his arrival to Papeete, the capital of French Polynesia, July 25, 2021. In July 2021, French President Emmanuel Macron visited French Polynesia for the first time in his mandate.

Why did French Polynesia vote?

French Polynesia is one of several French overseas territories that span the Caribbean and the Pacific and give Paris a global footprint unmatched by any other European nation. The Polynesia vote came as controversy continues over an operation on the French Indian Ocean island of Mayotte to clear slums and stem illegal immigration.

What role does French Polynesia play in Papeete?

In Papeete, Macron underlined the preeminent role of French Polynesia in this strategy: "We have a page of ambitions for the future to write here in the Pacific, with an Indo-Pacific strategy in which I believe and in which French Polynesia has an essential role to play." The Regional Level

Is French Polynesia a power projection Highway?

French Polynesia is tantamount to a power projection highway, running through the heart of the Pacific into Asia, and connecting the military forces stationed on a sweep of islands sprinkled between Hawaii, Australia, and the Philippines along the way.

How is French Polynesia governed?

The islands enjoy a large degree of autonomy within the French Republic. The Assembly of French Polynesia - made up of 57 members elected for five years - will elect the president of the territory in a secret ballot vote in mid-May. This president will form his or her own government with executive function.

Could French Polynesia & New Caledonia make a similar offer to Tuvalu?

Tuvalu has a population of 11,000, and its low-lying atolls make it particularly vulnerable to global warming. Colonna said she was not sure if the French Pacific territories of French Polynesia and New Caledonia had the capacity to make similar offers. "I'm open to consider any specific request," Colonna told the National Press Club of Australia.
