If this is indeed normal (Encharge only supplies 200W when loads call for 300W), then the maximum on-grid Energy Independence you can get from an Encharge is much less than 100%. I'm curious if Powerwall owners or other Encharge ...

The base cost of an Encharge 10 is around $10-11k retail, so I would expect $20k with install, the smart switch, etc. I would think adding another Encharge would only add perhaps 12k-13k to the existing system. I am probably going to add two more encharge 10s to my setup this summer so I should have a better idea soon.
