How long does it take to ship KSEC to Kiribati?

The two-hour boat ride across an ocean lagoon from South to North Tarawa is short by local standards; Airam said it can take nearly two weeks to ship KSEC solar equipment from South Tarawa's port to some of Kiribati's more remote islands. (He usually flies to site visits.)

Can Kiribati land on South Tarawa?

When a passenger jet approaches South Tarawa, Kiribati's most populous island, at the end of a three-hour flight from Fiji, one wonders where it can possibly land. That is because most of the island is only a few dozen metres wide -- barely enough room, it seems, for a landing strip.

Why is Kiribati a swath of ocean?

The vast swaths of ocean that separate Pacific Island states from each other, and from the nearest continents, coupled with a lack of fossil-fuel reserves and (for Kiribati and some of its neighbours) arable land for subsistence agriculture, make long boat trips and extensive imports of food, fuel and other essential goods a fact of life.

Is Kiribati a happy country?

"We're so much happier." Since 1991, the state-owned Kiribati Solar Energy Company (KSEC) has distributed approximately 4,400 home solar systems across 21 of the country's 33 islands and received millions of dollars in development assistance from Japan and then the European Union, according to Tavita Airam, the company's chief executive.

My system is only 100 amp but because I used a Sol-ark 15k my utility wants me to upgrade their transformer at the tidy sum of $3400.00.. The install did pass inspection last month so I'm just waiting for a battery I ordered so I can get the install finished. The Sol-ark and the bypass switch are mounted opposite of the outside disconnects.
