Most of Kosovo's electricity is supplied as imports or from two lignite-fired thermal power plants, the 40-year-old Kosovo A Power Station (with a 345 MW generation capacity) near Pristina, and ...

To support the green transition in Kosovo*, the European Investment Bank (EIB) has signed a EUR33 million investment loan for the construction one of its largest solar photovoltaic plants near Pristina - with a ...

To promote solar uptake, KESS created an ArcGIS site, Kosovo Solar Assessment: ... a subsidiary of RC Cola in Kosovo, installed a solar PV system that has 720 kWp of solar capacity. This means that 15 percent of the company's energy needs will now come from renewables, generating a carbon offset of 733.4 tonnes of carbon dioxide per year ...

What is photovoltaic (PV) technology and how does it work? PV materials and devices convert sunlight into electrical energy. A single PV device is known as a cell. An individual PV cell is usually small, typically producing about 1 or 2 watts of power. These cells are made of different semiconductor materials and are often less than the thickness of four human hairs.
